

Prospect Research Manager

The National Park Foundation is hiring a detail oriented Manager for Prospect Research. The individual in this position is a member of the Philanthropic department, working closely with the major gift team and the operations team to provide a wide scope of current and historical information. This data will inform and influence major, principal and planned gift portfolios and prospect pools, and be the basis for short and long term strategic planning, and will also provide supporting justification for the entire prospect pipeline and campaign planning/goal setting efforts. Data sets will include, but not be limited to, confirmed wealth and internal ratings information, philanthropic contributions and involvement, and other biographical data able to be delivered in a variety of formats. This position requires considerable focus on financial details and significant time processing and evaluating publicly disclosed asset information.

WORKING AT NPF

The National Park Foundation, in partnership with the National Park Service, enriches America's national parks and programs through private support, safeguarding our heritage and inspiring generations of national park enthusiasts.

In 1872 America did something unprecedented; it set aside more than one million acres of wilderness for the benefit and enjoyment of the people. For more than 100 years, citizen involvement and private philanthropy have helped to improve, preserve and protect America's national parks. Since it was established by Congress in 1967, NPF has sustained this legacy of private philanthropy. We are a small organization with a big mandate. Learn more about us at www.nationalparks.org.

RESPONSIBILITIES AND DUTIES

- Following department operating procedures, conduct research on prospects while utilizing web-based research tools (Wealth-X, Research Point, Foundation Search, NOZA, SEC and FEC filings, Market Watch, Forbes, Bloomberg Businessweek, major news outlets, credible websites, etc.), internal checklists, and internally-produced information to collect and analyze philanthropic and biographical information.
- Stay abreast of current local, national, and global events across a number of fields, especially in real estate, finance, and philanthropy.
- Meet frequently with the Major Gift team members and other senior staff to provide the above needed information for prospect strategy documents.
- Assist in maintaining the integrity of donor records in the database.
- Support the Governance committee with necessary profiles and documents.
- Support the Stewardship team with necessary briefing documents of prospective donors.
- Performs other duties as assigned.

ESSENTIAL EXPERIENCE, SKILLS AND COMPETENCIES

The ideal candidate should have the following:

- Bachelor's Degree in Non-Profit Management, English, Business Administration, or any other major equivalent to liberal arts.
- Minimum of 3-5 years in prospect research experience.
- Membership in APRA, local APRA chapter(s), AASP encouraged.
- Responsible and ethical web-based browsing and ability to interpret fact from opinion.
- Demonstrated experience in working with financial and real estate asset valuation.
- Strong ability to sift through and evaluate large amounts of information.
- Ability to work in a fast-paced team environment and manage numerous tasks and deadlines.
- Proficiency in creating cogent, neat, readable and comprehensive donor profiles and deliver information in a variety of formats, as needed.
- Exceptional written and oral communication skills.
- Strong critical thinking skills and detail-orientation.
- Knowledge and mastery of all basic Microsoft Office applications, Blackbaud databases, free and fee web-based information sites and applications.
- Willingness to work occasional nights and weekends as required.
